

Service One
We create your first range

Roadmap to create your first range of original products.
From scratch.

Background You are a start-up, a scale-up or an established firm that wants to enter your present or new market with a range of your own, original, commercially sound products.

How Step by Step. When you enter the market, you need some product for positioning, something to give you volumes and something to give you profit. Together, we find out how many you need in each group.

There are amazing products that does triple job. We call them unicorns, some other calls them geniuses, heroes or angels. One can enter the market with one product only if it is a Unicorn.

Why Like humans, also products give better results when working together. To have a range means basically makes sure that “the eggs are spread” an different products work in a team.

Roadmap to create your first range of original products.
From scratch.

Now you want to know from which strengths you need to work from. Also, what combo of weaknesses and threats you have got to mitigate to keep afloat in the meanwhile.

We use a tool called the Rolls Royce of SWOT where we map your top combos of strengths and opportunities.

How workshop with keys stakeholders or the whole workforce, depending on your needs and resources.

Why to take facts based conscious decisions about the commerciality of your first range of products.

Roadmap to create your first range of original products.
From scratch.

Macrotrend research

Now we choose some macrotrends to focus on.

There are plenty of trends and you want to know which ones are the next 3/5/10 years-trends that are widely acknowledged, those which are there to stay.

You want your products to be relevant and meet real needs. Example for widely acknowledged macro trend: urbanisation, pet humanisation, middle class raise wage in Asia, equality on the rise, aging population.

How We use a number of accredited sources. We choose always the open ones first.

Why To crosscheck trends. To minimise your costs.

Roadmap to create your first range of original products.
From scratch.

Microtrend research

Now you want to know, within the main global trends, which ones are the most important micro trends in the specific market where you want to launch your product. You need to know what people wants and buy in the market you want to be.

Some example? ASMR, plant based food technology, alcohol free spirit, alternative currencies, pet fashion and furniture, Luxury cars designed with women in mind.

How the intersection of macro and micro trends will draw a more specific identikit of your range.

Why Customers are local.

Roadmap to create your first range of original products.
From scratch.

Whatever overlapping we found among global macrotrends, local microtrends and your own strengths and opportunities will give you a list of commercially sound products, ready to be mapped.

You will receive a list of highly potential products to be developed in the market of your choice, based on your timeline, strengths and resources.

How By framing potential products resulting from the intersection of macro and micro trends and that can be delivered by your best strength within lowest hanging fruits. It is a sudoku.

Why To maximise chances of results.

Roadmap to create your first range of original products. From scratch.

Now we can start mapping your range price wise, based on what you are competing against.

How We look at direct and indirect competitors. The mapping will take into consideration style/function/colour/material and whatever characteristic impacts the commerciality.

Why to have an agile and cost effective product development process you want to have a detailed briefing of your future products, including design, price, function, material and extra featured.

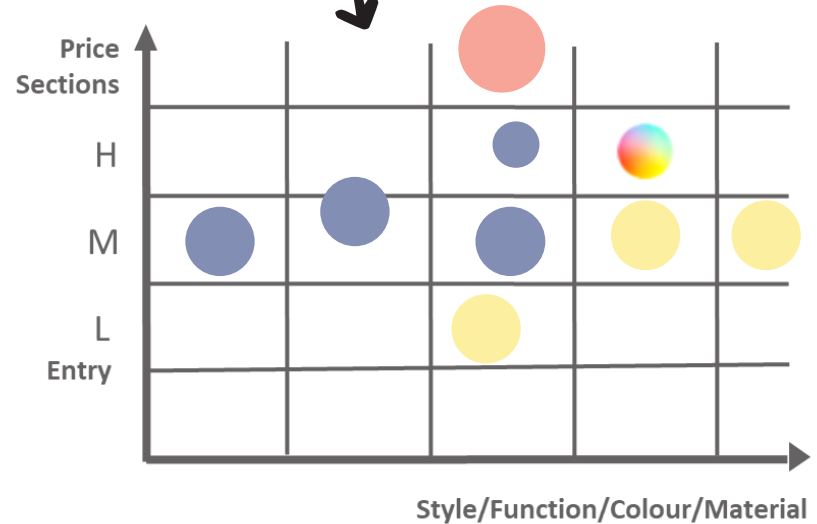

Start-up You now enter the market in a safer way, spreading your eggs in more baskets and making sure you end up in the 20% of start-ups that actually make it.

Scale-up You now have a roadmap for a sustainable growth and efficient operations. You decide what brings you volumes, margins and positioning.

Established firm You took the motorway in terms of working smart, efficient, agile and commercially savvy. You streamline your range based on what brings you volumes, margins and positioning. You can broaden/deepen the customer range, sharpen the supplier chain.

Any Business You save yourself time, resources, pain and sorrow, you increase efficiency, retention, involvement and The sheer chance of making a dent.

Roadmap to create your first range of original products.
From scratch.

Value You will receive a simple, down to earth tool that shows your team what products you need to enter/conquer the market with sustainable and long-term growth.

Why us This tool is been used for many years and the method perfected to make the process simple to follow, interactive, involving and completely personalised on your needs, resources and ambitions.

Lucia Arrigucci has been working for over 20 years within productization with start-up, scale-up and established firms. Read more in her articles.

We support start-ups, scale-ups and established firms to make an idea, a service or an item into a product that can be sold with our competence and global network of experienced partners.

No-nonsense approach guaranteed.

Thanks for your attention!